These gardens are a tribute to the past work of a dedicated group made up of committee members, Rotary and RSL members, family and friends along with volunteers.

In 2005 a 30 bed extension was added to include residents that required a higher level of nursing and technical care, thus allowing resident ageing in place.

Today, Holloway Aged Care Services, offers the community a high standard of professional care services. Services that are guided by registered nurses enrolled nurses and qualified aged care workers.

Our aim is to ensure that consumers that choose Holloway enjoy the lifestyle opportunities and a happy environment supported by the high standard of care.

Holloway Aged Care Services is a, not for profit, stand alone aged care facility. Established and opened to take its first residents in December 1994.

Holloway is primarily funded by federal government subsidies.

A community aged care home, Holloway is governed by Keilor Hostel for the Aged Association Inc., a voluntary committee of management who delegate the operational and general day to day management to the executive officer.

Holloway is often referred to as East Keilor's best kept secret, in that little has been known of its established excellence, except through word of mouth.

Over time the advertising base has broadened and Holloway is becoming widely known for its friendly, home like environment. Lifestyle opportunities and the beautiful cottage gardens that surround the facility, greatly enhance the home like atmosphere.
